Q2 Engwall on Project Goals

Updated 2016-12-15 in orange and 2016-12-13 in yellow

You have read Maylor (2010). Now read Engwall (2002). Reflect and discuss.

(Some students might find it difficult to write an essay without having a question to respond to. If you go blank, consider these question: Now what is a project manager to do after having read both these texts? Do the advice from the respective authors align, or how do they differ? Are they both right? Also note that these questions cover a subset of what is 'reflectable and discussable'.)

Maximum three pages (excluding cover page and reference list).
